*Dr. Ferdinand Gjana
Rector*

Dear Prospective Student,

Life for each of us is a long journey, full of challenges and achievements. There are many important moments that are decisive in shaping our futures and defining the paths we follow in our lives. One of these moments is the step we take into university education, where the basics of a profession are learnt and, more importantly, preparation for life and its challenges begins. When we enter the doors of a University, we begin a journey of cultural enrichment, and expansion of the boundaries of our knowledge, which continues throughout our lives.

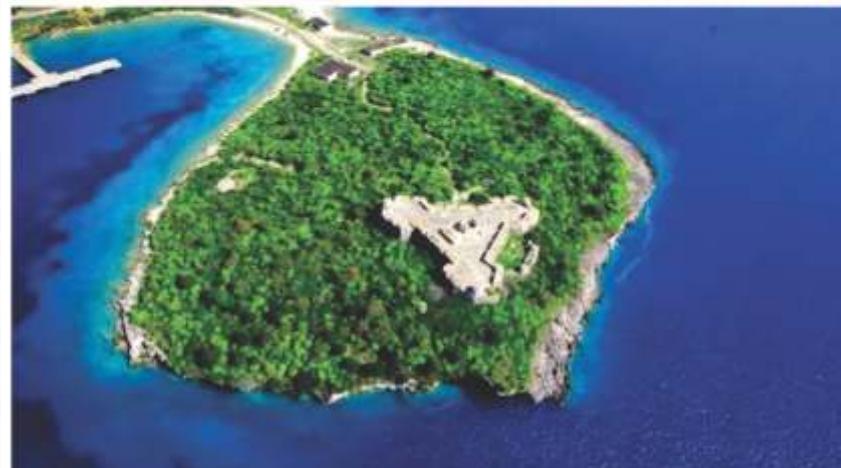

For this reason it is important that you are comfortable with the choices you make and the decisions you take about higher education, because once you have embarked on a particular path, turning back or changing direction may be difficult and costly. The best and most appropriate choices will help define your future professions and areas of interest, as well as leading you towards the University that offers you the best and most complete way of achieving your aspirations.

Bedër "Hëna e Plotë" University is an institution that fully meet the expectations of those who have chosen to make their careers in the area of Social Sciences. The University has a consolidated international profile, both in terms of its academic staff, all of whom are highly qualified teachers, domestic as well as foreign, and of its students, who come from 15 different countries, making Beder a truly multicultural environment.

"Hëna e Plotë" (Bedër) University, through its academic advisory system, enables its students to learn with their own tutors, with whom they meet regularly and can discuss any issues they face in their university careers. Albania's integration into the European family also makes the learning of foreign languages essential, which is why language learning is an important element in all our programs.

In short, "Hëna e Plotë" (Bedër) University is an institution of higher education which aspires to the highest standards in its teaching, and offers its students an academic and life experience, comparable with the best/any available in the world/region today.

Albania

Tirana

Beder University is located close to the centre of Tirana, the heart and capital of Albania, which like other European capitals, has a never-ending movement and energy.

Sulejman Pasha Bargjini, a feudal lord from nearby Mullet, established the city in 1614, and his first constructions were a mosque, a bakery and a hamam (Turkish bath). However it was not until February 8, 1920 that Tirana was declared temporary capital of Albania by the Congress of Lushnje, and it became the permanent capital on December 31, 1925.

In the center of Tirana lies the main square, Sheshi Skënderbej, the Mosque of Et'hem Bey (built between 1798 and 1812) and the 35 m high Kulla e Sahatit (the Watch Tower), built in 1822, with a San Marco style cupola. The Palace of Culture housing the Opera and Ballet Theater and National Library are also situated on the main square, and other important cultural institutions such as the National Historical Museum, Archeological Museum, Museum of Natural Sciences and National Gallery of Fine Arts are located nearby. Tirana is also within easy reach of major historical and touristic towns such as Durres and Kruja, the UNESCO heritage centers of Butrint, Gjirokaste, and the Adriatic Sea and Dajti Mountain are both close to the city. The Tirana Great Park with its artificial lake is located in the southern part of the city, close to the site of Beder University's new campus.

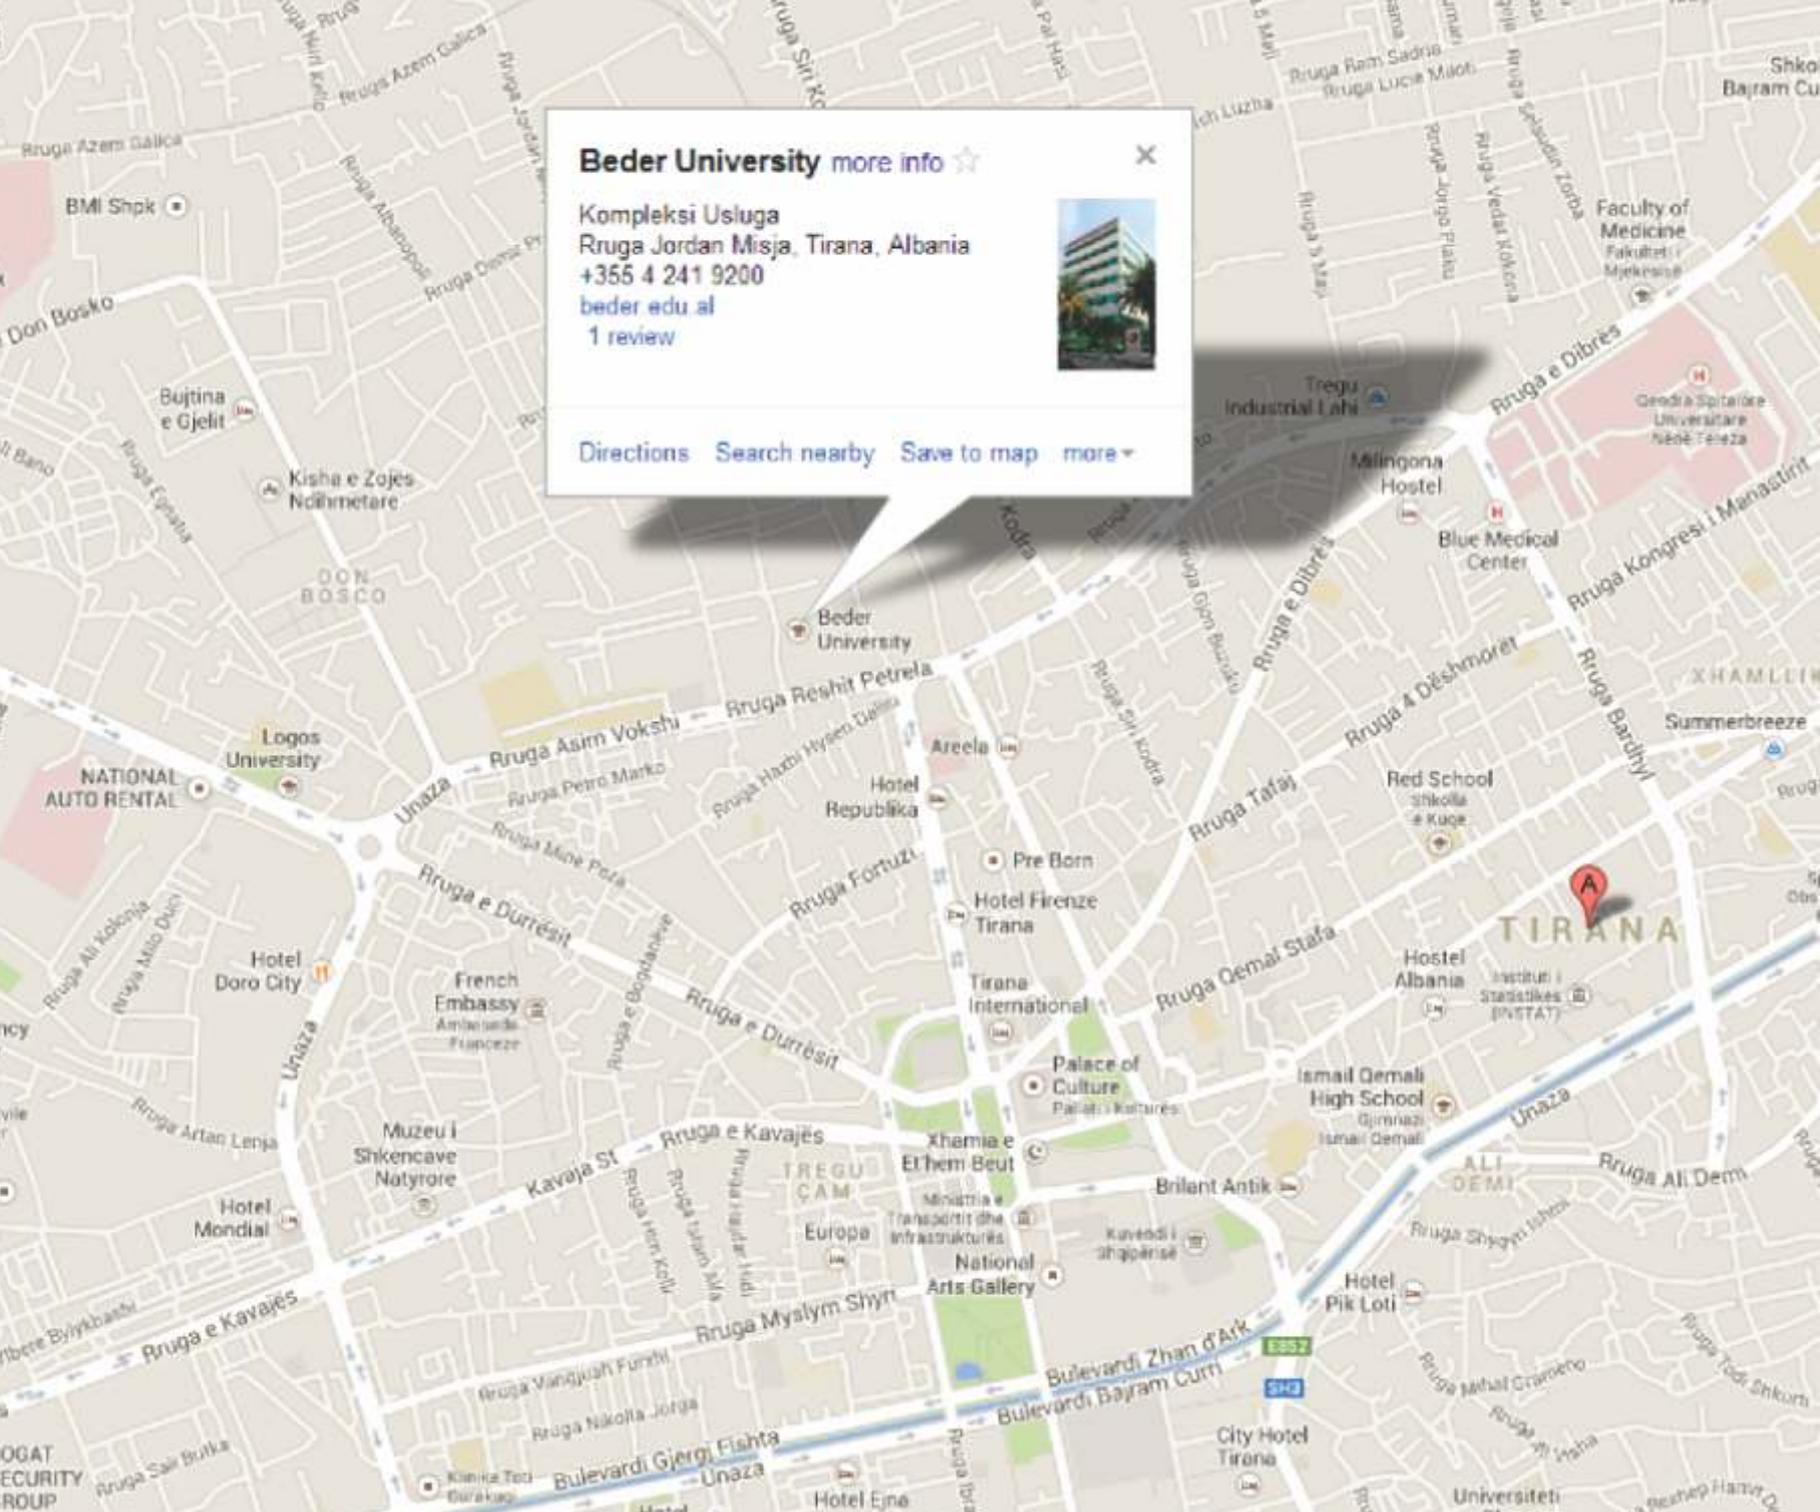

In short, Tirana is beautiful and dynamic city which every year hosts thousands of visitors and students from the Balkans and further afield, and the respect and hospitality shown by Albanians towards their guests is something that will mark your time in Tirana and at Hënë e Plote (Beder) University.

About the University

HISTORY

“Hëna e Plotë” (Bedër) University was opened in April 2011 following a Decision by the Council of Ministers licensing it as an institution of higher education offering study programs in the field of Social Sciences at first and second degree level (Bachelor and Masters programs).

The University has two Faculties - the Faculty of Humanities and the Faculty of Philology and Education - and six Departments - Law, Communications Sciences, and Islamic Studies, Education Sciences, English Language and Literature, and Turkish Language and Literature – offering in total seven Bachelor level and fourteen Master level programs, as well as a professional masters program.

Since its foundation, the University has attracted students from all Albanian speaking parts of the region and the Albanian diaspora, as well as from other European countries. The University currently has students from 18 countries, and aims to expand their numbers in the coming years. Beder’s international profile is also reflected in the composition of its academic staff and the collaborative agreements it has signed with universities and enterprises across the world.

MISSION

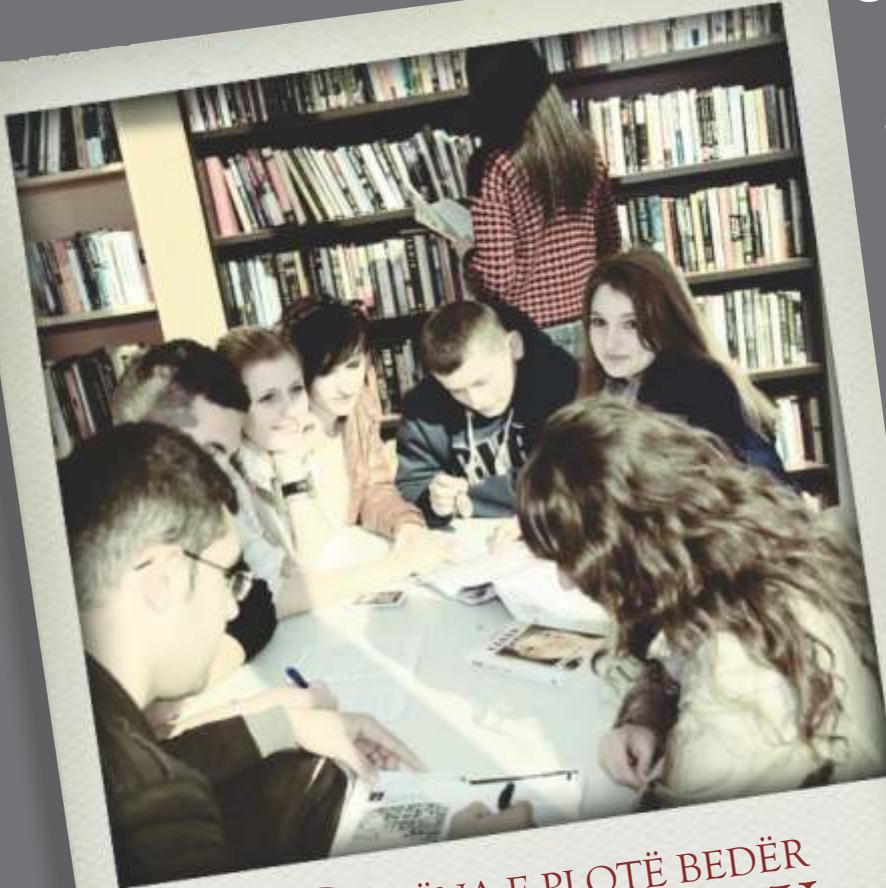

“Hëna e Plotë” (Bedër) University’s Mission is to prepare qualified and responsible individuals through an educational philosophy inspired by universal human values and the highest international standards of education and research, and to help improve ethical, social and professional standards across the region through the commitment of its graduates.

VISION

“Hëna e Plotë” (Bedër) University’s Vision is to become a leader amongst elite institutions of higher education in Albania and the region through the quality of its teaching, and opportunities for study, personal development and service, making it the natural choice for education and research for all Albanians within their country and wherever else they may be in the world.

“Hëna e Plotë” (Bedër) University also aims to become a leading education institution offering opportunities for education and research to foreign as well as Albanian students, thereby contributing to the promotion of Tirana as a regional centre of learning and original research, and establishing cooperation with similarly profiled institutions of higher education elsewhere in Europe and the world.

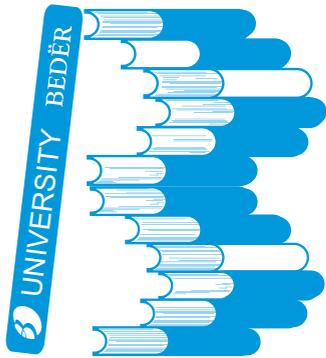

STUDYING AT BEDËR

 HËNA E PLOTË BEDËR
UNIVERSITY

Studying at “Hëna e Plotë” (Bedër) University means not only receiving a first class academic education, but also benefiting from a rich diversity of student activities. Studying at this university means being part of a multicultural environment, living alongside students from many different nationalities. Studying at Bedër means being in the care of a not-for-profit institution that is focused on the interests of its students. Studying at “Hëna e Plotë” (Bedër) University means benefiting from the opportunities offered by the academic and student life of the University, leading on to a dynamic future and career based on the experiences gained as a student at Beder.

Library

The Library contains books and publications covering many social fields, but principally those on which the University's activities are focused, such as: Law, Communication Studies, Philosophy, English Literature, Islamic Studies, Turkish Literature, Psychology and Education Sciences.

The Library's collection consists of titles specifically purchased for the library or donated by individuals and institutions. Books are chosen in accordance with demand and the needs of students and the administrative and academic staff. The library currently holds 35 000 books. In the near future, it will also provide online access to both books and research publications.

Library

Bedër "Hëna e Plotë" University Library functions as an integral part of the university. Library services are performed by staff specially chosen by the University and are available only to students and academic staff. The Library is located on the ground floor of the University building and occupies an area of 300 square meters. The aim of the Library is to support the educational and academic activities of both academic staff and students.

STUDENT LIFE

A University in the center of Tirana

The location of the University's main building close to the city center enables Beder's students to have rapid access to Tirana's main public institutions, centers of art and culture, and health care facilities, as well as all other places of interest in the capital. The building itself provides a modern environment for the pursuit of academic and social activities.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Social activities are an integral part of student life of the University. Alongside their academic and study obligations, students are able to participate in various social and sports activities. Exhibitions, literary and sporting competitions are just some of the activities organized by the Student Clubs that enrich the lives of students at the University.

Dean of students

The Office of the Dean of Students is an important unit in the functioning of the University. The Office pays special attention to student welfare, having as its main mission advising on the rights and needs of students and student groups. in accordance with the principle that the "Student is at the Center of the University" The Office of the Dean of Students also assists in the development of activities organized by student societies, internships and work experience programs within the country and abroad, and in career planning activities.

CAREER

Careers Planning Office

The Office of Career Planning develops activities designed to bring institutions in the public and private sectors together with current students and graduates, in turn offering qualified human resources to these institutions. The organization of activities to maintain contact between students and the University after graduation is among the priorities of this Office. In addition the Office has career advisers in each Department to offer ongoing support and advice to students at any time on their future career choices.

PARTICIPATION IN DECISION MAKING

Students are the core component in the life of any University, and as such, their voice has to be heard in university decision-making. "Hëna e Plotë" (Bedër) University has consolidated a positive practice of student participation in decision-making, whereby the Student Council, elected by the students, has its representatives on all main governing bodies of the University, such as the Senate, Council of Academic Evaluation and Quality Development, and other bodies.

STUDENT SOCIETIES

Student Societies aim to develop students' skills in terms of social, cultural, and intellectual development. In general, they are composed of students with skills in a particular field, but any student showing an interest in a particular field is entitled to participate in a Society. The following is a list of interests covered by the Societies currently active at the University:

- Debating Society
- "Turkish Language and Culture"
- "Message of Life"
- Ideas, Art and Culture
- Photography
- ILSA
- "Young Psychologists"
- Diversity Society
- Human Rights Society
- "Beder Law Academy"

WORK EXPERIENCE

Professional Work Experience is an important element in the CV of any graduate student, which is why “Hëna e Plotë” (Bedër) University sees internships and work experience as a valuable opportunity for its students to learn about the world of work and build a network of contacts and assessments which will help them in their future careers. To assist students in this regard, a network has been created between the University and public institutions and business contacts in Albania and abroad, through the signing of cooperation agreements.

DOUBLE MAJOR AND MINOR PROGRAMS

Students may attend courses in open programs offered by other Departments starting from their third semester, in accordance with criteria established by the Senate. Students at the end of such courses, in addition to the diploma of the Department in which they are registered, will be issued with a double diploma with a Major or a Minor course certificate.

STUDENT EXCHANGE PROGRAMS

In its short history, Beder has succeeded in establishing close relationships with other universities in the region and beyond to exchange programs, staff and students, and organize joint conferences, as well as to carry out research etc. Within these agreements, students can apply to spend a semester or an academic year at another university with which the University has a cooperation agreement.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND STUDENT SUPPORT

In order to encourage the selection and admission of students with high level qualifications, the University has a policy of offering scholarships to selected students. For this purpose, scholarships are awarded to students with high scores in state examinations, students who achieve high scores in secondary schools, and students who are winners of national and international Olympiads.
